VICTORIA.

MELBOURNE, MONDAY.

The Earl of Buckinghamshire and Mr. Magnus Pyke, Commissioners for the Grosvenor Gallery Intercolonial Exhibition, visited today the new wing of the Public Library and Museum, which has been placed at their disposal for the collection. They expressed themselves pleased with the accommodation provided, and efforts will be made to open the Exhibition early.

A large number of employees of the Victorian Telephone Exchange, who have been working in the building which has been purchased by the Government, have been informed that their services will no longer be required. Much dissatisfaction has been caused by certain members of Parliament having pledged themselves when the Public Service Act Amendment Bill comes before the House to secure the inclusion of these workpeople in the public service.

An application was made today to the Acting Commissioner of Customs on behalf of the Royal Society, Acclimatization Society, and Field Naturalists' Club for the use of the Government steamer Lady Loch, to convey a scientific expedition to King's Island, for the purpose of exploration. The recent action of the New South Wales Government in conveying a party of scientists to Lord Howe Island was referred to in support of the application. Mr. Cuthbert promised to accede to the request.

A difficulty is being experienced in regard to the admission of female medical students at the University of Melbourne. The question in dispute is whether male and female students are to be taught side by side, or whether there should be separate classes for the two sexes. The council of the University held a conference with the medical faculty today. The latter expressed the opinion that if females were to learn medicine at all they must be taught without regard to their sex and be treated in all matters in exactly the same way as male students. No decision was arrived at.

The Cabinet decided today to grant £150 to the captain and crew of the Avon for their gallant conduct in rescuing the survivors of the Derry Castle, conditionally on £200 additional being raised by public subscription. It is believed that £250 will be sufficient to compensate the crew for the loss they incurred in sustaining the survivors and abandoning their sealing cruises. It is probable that arrangements will be made with the New Zealand Government for a more frequent visitation to the islands of Bass's Straits, and for provisioning additional depots for the relief of castaways, most of the vessels wrecked in the straits during recent years having been traders between the two colonies.

At a meeting of the Seamen's Union to-night, a letter was read from the Sydney branch urging that a levy be struck in each of the seamen on strike in New Zealand. It was decided that the time was not opportune for imposing a levy, but, if necessary, the men will be assisted out of the funds of the union.

In reference to the cablegram from London, intimating that Mr. Frank Stuart stated that the English agents of several stockfarms in Melbourne had threatened to boycott the Manchester Exhibition if they exhibited at the forthcoming Melbourne Centennial Exhibition, several firms in Flinders-lane have declared that they did not inspire any such threat, nor do they countenance it in any way. They express their readiness to afford the manufacturers of Manchester every facility for exhibiting their goods at the Exhibition.

SMALLPOX IN LAUNCESTON.

[BY TELEGRAPH.]
[FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENTS.]

HOBART, MONDAY.

The outbreak of smallpox at Launceston is now supposed to have originated from the clothes of a Chinaman who died some time ago at Scottsdale from chicken-pox. His clothes were sent to Launceston to be transmitted to China. Watson, the man who died of the disease, handled the box, and he appears to have communicated the disease to the others. There are said now to be eight cases of the epidemic. News received to-night states that only two of the cases are dangerous. Nearly all those who have been attacked have not been vaccinated. The four houses where the patients live have been isolated. A hospital has been promptly established on the Mowbray race-course, where the buildings have been turned to account. Water has been laid on to the course, and a doctor has been provided. The patients and all suspected persons were removed there to-night. One doctor seems to think that the cases are bad attacks of chicken-pox, but the other doctors are quite clear that they are smallpox. The arrangements for isolation are excellent.

LAUNCESTON, MONDAY.

The following are the names of the smallpox patients: Mrs. Blanchflower (recovered), and two children, confluent form, improving; nurse of Mrs. White, modified form; baby just developed a rash slightly; Mrs. Bishop, modified form, convalescent; Mr. Bishop, modified form, two days; his son, who had the disease in a modified form, was very ill for a week, and died this afternoon; Hawkins, modified form, rash out four days; Watson, aged 30, died of confluent smallpox and pneumonia.

No fresh cases are reported.

MELBOURNE, MONDAY.

The Central Board of Health held a special meeting today for the purpose of devising precautionary measures to prevent the introduction of smallpox from Tasmania. It was decided to request the Governor in Council to issue a proclamation rendering all vessels from Tasmania liable to detention in quarantine on arrival at the Heads. A proclamation was duly issued in the course of the afternoon by the direction of the Executive Council, and was published in a special supplement of the Government Gazette this evening. The Central Board of Health also decided that instructions should be given to the water police to secure the addresses of all passengers from Tasmania, in order that they may be visited by the health officers of the districts to which they go to reside, with the view of the prompt isolation of any of their number who may develop symptoms of incipient smallpox. The want of lymph in Tasmania for vaccination purposes having been notified to the Central Board, a supply of 500 points of calf and 100 points of humanised lymph was forwarded by the steamer Flinders today to the house surgeon of the Launceston Hospital for distribution among the public vaccinators. Dr. Haines, who was returning to Tasmania, also obtained a quantity of lymph for the use of vaccinators at the north-west ports. There is no legal power to insist on the vaccination of unvaccinated persons from ports infected with smallpox. The bill to amend the Public Health Act contains a clause which provides that unvaccinated persons on arrival here must either submit to vaccination or undergo detention in quarantine for 14 days. The steamer Moreton, which was detained in Hobson's Bay, pending the decision of the Central Board of Health, is now permitted to depart to pass up the river. At a meeting of the Executive Council in the afternoon an order was passed validating the action of the board in detaining the vessel. The police are endeavouring to ascertain the whereabouts of 60 passengers who came from Tasmania by the Flinders, which arrived here on Friday last.

PROPOSED INTERCOLONIAL POSTAL CONFERENCE.

[FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENTS.]

ADELAIDE, MONDAY.

A conference of the responsible heads of the postal departments of the various colonies will be opened in Adelaide on November 7. It will probably last several days, and there will be many important subjects for discussion. Only two intercolonial postal conferences have been held previously, the first having taken place in Sydney, and the second in Melbourne. Recently the Minister of Education wrote to Mr. Derham, the Victorian Postmaster-General, suggesting that a conference should be held, and intimating his opinion that, as the previous conferences had been held in Sydney and Melbourne, the next one should be held in Adelaide, adding that as South Australia was celebrating the jubilee of its foundation, no more fitting place could be selected at which the delegates might assemble. Both Mr. Derham and Mr. Roberts, Postmaster-General of New South Wales, have agreed to the proposal. Correspondence is now taking place between Mr. Johnson and the Governments of Queensland, New Zealand, Tasmania, and Western Australia on the subject. It is intended that the Minister representing the department in each colony shall be present, accompanied by the permanent head. Should there be a full attendance, the delegates will number 14. At the last conference the great question under consideration was the securing of a new ocean mail service for Victoria, New South Wales, and South Australia upon terms mutually favourable to them, and the result was fairly satisfactory. This conference will be on a broader basis, and should Mr. Johnson's idea be realized, a great deal of advantage will follow to the whole of Australasia in the matter of postal and telegraphic facilities, while the federal spirit will also be considerably developed. The subjects which Mr. Johnson has suggested for discussion include the following:—the improvement of the present postal service, universal postal mail service, Trans-Pacific mail service, universal postal union, intercolonial parcels post, intercolonial postal notes, uniform postal regulations, reduction on inland postage, and adoption of the ounce unit, the Eastern and Extension Telegraph Company's offer for the duplication of the overhead telegraph line from some point to Queensland, reduction of telegraphic rates, and the amendment of the telegraph regulations in the direction of uniformity.

THE NORTHERN TERRITORY.

[FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENTS.]

ADELAIDE, MONDAY.

The Minister of Education has received a telegram from the Governor Resident in the Northern Territory, who reports that the tin claims near Mount Shrubberies are yielding fine rich tin, remarkably similar to the best Poona ore. There are 70 tons at grass, which are estimated to yield 20 per cent. tin. The line is laid to the 30th mile from Palmerston. Mr. Parsons was met at that point by Mr. Miller, with an engine and truck, and pointed the mine. Mr. Parsons says that the mineral resources of the Territory are much richer than he formerly supposed, and they extend over a larger area. He intends, about the middle of October, to visit the McArthur River district. It is also announced that there has not been any further outbreak of smallpox at Port Darwin.

MELBOURNE, MONDAY.

The first session of the 10th Assembly of the Church of England for the diocese of Melbourne was opened this afternoon in the Freemason's Hall. He advocated the claims of the home mission work, and contended that the Lord's Prayer, the Ten Commandments, and certain scriptural lessons should be taught in the State schools. He referred to the Divorce Bill now before the Assembly as a mischievous measure. A long and heated discussion ensued, the result being that the council decided to reduce the rate to 1s. 4d. in the pound. The petition was received, and it was resolved to take the opinion of a solicitor, Mr. R. W. Thompson, M.L.A., upon the matter. The latter is a ratepayer, and had already paid the rate without murmur. If the council agree to the petition, £500 would be lost. 70 ratepayers have already paid the full rate.

THE MANLY WILD FLOWER SHOW.

[FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENTS.]

The annual show of wild flowers at Manly, which has become quite an institution at that favourite marine suburb, will commence to-morrow, and judging from past appearances it promises to be quite as successful as it is not more so, than any of those which have preceded it. This will be the sixth show of the kind, and notwithstanding some difficulties which appeared to beset the exhibition of this year at the outset, there is no reason to believe that the show will be less successful than the others. The quantity of flowers for sale in the general attractiveness of the whole. The difficulty referred to, and which for a time at least threatened to interfere with the success of this year's exhibition, was an outcry to the effect that the flowers were not cut off as they should be, but were torn up at the roots, so interfering with the beauty of those places where they were cut. Hence the Government were called upon not to permit this year the "decoration" of the ground from which in years past the flowers were usually gathered, but as a matter of fact the whole of the flowers on the ground and at Manly and its neighbourhood have disappeared—not through any action on the part of past flower gatherers for the show, but through the action of the Government, who have been called upon to close the grounds to the public, and to permit the flowers to be cut off as they should be, but were torn up at the roots, so interfering with the beauty of those places where they were cut.
